Subject: How are you?

Dear May,

How are you? You've been studying in a new school for a month now. How is it? I still remember the days we studied together.

Recently at my school, the librarian put up a poster for a librarian assistant. You know my hobby is reading so I didn't miss this great chance.

Last Sunday, Betty, Elaine and I went to Kitty's birthday party. I bought a present for her birthday because we share the same hobby. During the party, we played games. Elaine lost most often in the games so we made her sing. Elaine's face turned very red at that moment. After the games, we ate some food. Betty lit ten candles on the birthday cake but Kitty told her to put two more on it. Betty must have forgotten how old Kitty was! Later Kitty played the piano for us. She has been learning how to play the piano for six years. We had great fun there and missed you!

I took some photos at the party. I will send them to you soon.

Best,
Sarah
