John : Good morning, everyone. Welcome to the Today Show. I'm John Wong. Next to me is pop superstar Mandy Tsui. Welcome, Mandy.

Mandy : Good morning, everyone. Thank you for having me, John.

John : You're welcome. Now, Mandy, can you share your experience of becoming a singer with us? I know that you studied Chinese Language at university, right?

Mandy : Yes. I've loved music since I was in primary school and I dreamt of becoming a singer one day.

John : So why didn't you study Music?

Mandy : Because my family didn't allow me to do so. My dad didn't want me to become a singer. He wanted me to become a teacher! That's why I chose to study Chinese Language, instead of Music. I cannot live without music, so I sang in a band during my university years. That's when my dad finally understood how much I loved music. He respected my choice to become a singer.

John : It must have been a very difficult time for you when your dad didn't support you at first.

Mandy : Yes, it was hard.

John : But now you are so successful. I think your dad would be very happy!

Mandy : Haha, I hope so. To get people notice you wasn't easy at all. Most people these days prefer listening to Korean pop songs. I've worked so hard to improve my singing skills and songwriting skills. When I was preparing for my first CD, I worked 15 hours a day. About five years ago, I started to see that people enjoyed my music and that my songs were becoming more and more popular. I couldn't be more grateful.

John : I remember listening to your hit song, 'Look What You Did'. It was fantastic.

Mandy : Thank you so much, John. That's my personal favourite too.

John : There are many new singers nowadays. What advice would you give to these rising stars?

Mandy : Well, anyone who wants to be a good singer must work very hard. They must love music. Also, they should take good care of themselves, like exercising every day and having a balanced diet.

John : That's very true. By the way, thank you again for coming to our show. Tomorrow we will have Emma Chan to talk about travelling around the world. Don't miss it!

- Mum : I guess about 600 dollars. Wait, we have a membership card so we can enjoy a 20% off discount. Hmm... I guess we spend less than 500 dollars then. No more than that.
- Alvin : OK. They also want to know how they can improve their service.
