A Picnic

The Lee family went on a picnic last Sunday. The weather was gorgeous. Before the trip, they prepared food, drinks, camera, mosquito spray, sunscreen and so on... After that, they hopped on the minibus. Half an hour later, they arrived at the destination.

Then they walked through the Monkey Forest and chose the picnic spot. They set up a table and placed some food and drinks. The children were starving, they ate and drank a lot of water to stay hydrated. They were too concentrated so they didn't notice that there were monkeys nearby. The 'monkey army' was staying on the tree and the monkeys were ready to steal the food for lunch.

After an hour, they got their sports equipment and started playing. The children were doing intense exercise while their parents took beautiful picture to post on social media to attract followers and viewers.

Suddenly, an army of monkeys sneaked under the table and stole all the bananas. Thanks to the 'Monkey Forest' intruders, the monkeys had a fantastic lunch!

At last, the Lee family realized the bananas were stolen. They knew that they shouldn't leave the food on the table. What they should have done is to pack their food. They will remember the experience and never do it again.
