

Ellen's Diary

24th April

Weather: Rainy

I had a bad day yesterday. Mum asked me to do a few things for her but it was not easy at all! In the morning, I watered the plants at home but my cat jumped out suddenly. Therefore, I was scared and I dropped the pot and it was broken! Immediately, I cleaned up the fragment and I found a glass to hold the plants.

After that, I went to the library to return the books. Unfortunately, the computer in the library broke down and the staff couldn't scan the code on them. The staff asked me to come again next week. However, it's time to return them. I walked to another library to return the books. I was exhausted.

In the afternoon, I went to the supermarket to buy a carton of eggs and a pack of flour. Just then, a naughty boy rushed past me. Then the eggs fell onto the ground and they were broken! Luckily, I found the manager of the supermarket and the boy apologized to me and the manager. He bought me another carton of eggs and I was glad to have some new eggs again. I've learnt a lesson that I shouldn't run quickly in any public places.

What an unforgettable day!
