

My Unforgettable Birthday

Yesterday was my birthday. When I came back home, the house was full of balloons! I was surprised. Then Dad came to me and gave me a robot which was my birthday present. It was marvelous. He said to me, 'Your mum and I spent a lot of money on this present. Please be careful.' I was very cheerful to have this present.

Then I had a warm shower. After that, I went to the table. I saw something incredible! It was my birthday cake. I heard my parents and sister clapping and singing for me. I made a wish. When I was about to blow out the candles, something unpleasant happened. My sister knocked over my robot! When it dropped down to the floor, I heard a crack. It was broken.

I felt enraged so I shouted at her loudly. I felt so annoyed that I almost slapped her face. Soon, she felt shocked and started crying. Dad tried to comfort my sister. Mum was worried. She tried to calm me down.

At last, my sister said sorry to me. I realized that I was being too harsh. I said sorry to her too. It was a traumatic day. In the end, I have learnt that we should stay calm. Staying calm is important for us to solve the problem.
